Between 2015 through September 2025 (not including COVID-19), Kentucky had 22 Major Disaster Declarations affecting counties all across the state. While 2025 had not ended yet when these data were accessed, during those 10 years, 2015 was the most active year with 4 Major Disaster Declarations. To learn more about a specific event, the “Disaster Number” provides a unique identifier that can be used in an online search.

There are several different types of disaster declarations. This issue of Kentucky: By the Numbers provides data on the number of “Major Disaster Declarations.” This type of declaration provides access to the widest array of resources. For more information, see “How a Disaster Gets Declared” at <https://www.fema.gov/disaster/how-declared>
